

Dear Sirs,

My name is Renan Salotti Felix, 33 years old, graduated in History (Pontifical Catholic University of São Paulo) and postgraduate in Education (Federal University of São Carlos). I have been working for ten years as a History teacher in public and private education in Brazil.

Last year (2020) had the opportunity to teach History of Brazil to student Matteo Domiciano Varnier during his period in high school at Colégio Carbonell, in Guarulhos/SP.

This student has always shown himself to be very dedicated in his studies. Even amidst the pandemic situation we were facing and the need for remote learning, Matteo remained active and stood out with good performances in its evaluations.

Academically speaking, Matteo is a very outstanding student. He has always sought to seize opportunities to expand his knowledge and understand the world around him more critically and deeply. Examples of this were their participation in projects offered by the Carbonell College. Matteo was involved in a project that created board games in addition to that; he participated in the Brazilian Physics Olympiad.

I also would like to emphasize that Matteo is an extremely collaborative person with everyone around him and that he has no difficulties in carrying out the proposed challenges together with his classmates. I believe he will adapt very well to any academic environment he is in and that he will be able to collaborate a lot with his peers.

I recommend Matteo Domiciano Varnier for this university place and I have no doubts that he will have a great performance, in addition to contributing to the academic environment in which he is inserted.

I am at your disposal to clarify any doubts.

Yours sincerely,

Prof. Renan Salotti Felix
